

Figure 2. Overlay of cytograms detecting SMP binding under a range of mAb immobilization concentrations. Detection of signal from mAb immobilization and SMP binding reveals dependence on saturation of bead immobilization capacity. Both mAb and SMP signal plateau around 100% of the reported binding capacity indicating assay reproducibility beyond this threshold complete saturation.